

How to develop and live your brand values

A compelling 2 hour
workshop to show
how your brand
values influence
your companies behaviour both internally and externally...

- Values exist in every workplace
- Identify the values that currently exist in your workplace.
- Create the workplace you desire.

'Do your values promote a culture of extraordinary customer care?'

The workshop format is designed to solve challenges, share knowledge and motivate teams. It will help you define each value by describing what you see in behaviour and actions when the value is truly incorporated into the company belief system and culture.

Start improving the reputation of your business right now!

Workshops are £150 per person. Workshops can also be provided for companies at their premises for multiple delegates. Price on application.

To book your chosen workshop or workshops please contact Richard Collins on 07831 857332 or email rich@eco-brand.co.uk

Ecobrand is a registered Skills Adviza Provider.